Food contact: Alaska Plus and Alaska White

We confirm that our cartonboard qualities Alaska Plus and Alaska White are certified for direct contact with dry and greasy and not for liquid or moist foodstuffs. In terms of product safety (e.g. migration of hazardous substances) frozen food can be considered as dry food. Therefore, Alaska Plus and Alaska White can be used for direct food contact with frozen food.

Nevertheless, it must be observed that this is only valid for defrosting of frozen food without the cartonboard packaging. If the food must be kept in contact with cartonboard packaging during and after defrosting, it must be considered as moist food.

In addition, Alaska Plus and Alaska White can be used as secondary packaging for chilled food.

Please note that this statement does not give any comment on the technical suitability.
